Section 11	Applicability of paragraph 11.4 to Base Operating Service (BOS) subcontracted cranes and services	18-014

QUESTIONS:

Q1: If a BOS contractor utilizes a subcontractor for crane services, would the subcontractors cranes and rigging gear be required to meet the NAVFAC P-307 maintenance, inspection, test and certification requirements?

Q2: Under the scenario of Question 1, would the operators and riggers from the subcontractor need to be trained and qualified as per NAVFAC P-307?

Q3: If the BOS contractor were to subcontract all of the facility crane maintenance testing and certification, would the subcontractor be required to be trained and qualified as per the NAVFAC P-307 to perform these functions?

ANSWERS:

A1: All of the NAVFAC P-307 requirements for BOS contractors (paragraph 11.4) apply equally to subcontractors who perform base operating services under the BOS contract.

A2: Yes. The requirements of NAVFAC P-307 for operators and riggers performing base operating services, including their training and qualification (section 8 as referenced by paragraph 11.4.1) apply to subcontractors of the BOS contractor.

A3: Yes. As noted in Response 1, the requirements of NAVFAC P-307 applicable to BOS contractors apply equally to subcontractors who perform base operating services under the BOS contract.
